GRANDSTERS IN NEW PERIL

GRANVILLE S. MacFARLAND

He Has Been Retained by Moran as Special Counsel to Investigate Law-Breaking by the Railroads.

He will seek violations of the law by the gas and electric light companies

NEW PERIL

Members of Legislature Who Carried Passes to Be Prosecuted Criminally. Railroads Also to Answer for Illegal Acts.

District Attorney John B. Moran to-day threw the greatest scare into the big corporations of Massachusetts that they have experienced since the BOSTON AMERICAN first exposed their bribery methods on Beacon Hill.

The District Attorney has begun to probe the railroad, gas and electric light companies of the State. For this purpose he has employed at his own expense Granville S. MacFarland, a lawyer of No. 15 State street. Mr. MacFarland is not only widely known for his ability as a lawyer, but for his integrity as well.

Mr. MacFarland has already begun his work and he will prosecute it with all the vigor he possesses. The result will be turned over to Mr. Moran with a view to securing grand jury indictments if they are warranted.

ADMITTED HAVING PASS.
 The District Attorney will prosecute any member of the Legislature or other officials who have received passes in violation of the law. It is known that many of them have such passes. One member of the House admitted that he carried a pass when he was before the Grand Jury in connection with the State House bribery charges, and he turned it over to the District Attorney. It is said.

This was the same Grand Jury which found an indictment in connection with bribery charges against Representative Frank J. Condon, but afterward dismissed it because Condon said pressure had been brought to bear on that body to induce it to do so.

AFTER THE RAILROADS.
 Mr. Moran does not only propose to prosecute those who accept passes in violation of the law, but he will go after the railroad companies which persistently dis-to learn the true state of affairs and to expose the corrupt lawbreakers in justice if possible. It is believed the district attorney's action relative to the gas and electric light companies is warranted in a measure by the order introduced in the House by Representative James H. Mellen of Worcester, who asked the Gas and Electric Light Commission to conduct the same with information obtainable in the streets.

ARREST EXPECTED ON BIG SWINDLE CHARGE

It is expected that an arrest will be made before night as a result of the investigation of the alleged "National Securities Company," which formerly did business at No. 110 State street and through which, it is alleged, Boston citizens lost thousands of dollars. The investigation is being pushed by M. T. Butler of Boston, who is in the city today, and who claims that he was advised by George S. MacFarland, the attorney who has been retained by the United States District Attorney, that a bond had been "secured" by the "National Securities Company," and that the bond was signed by "George Watson, President."

COULDN'T KEEP 3 CHILDREN ON HER $4 A WEEK

Mother, Who Works in a Cotton Mill, Asks Court to Care for Her Little Ones.

BEDFORD, July 12.—Declaring that she could not keep her three little children on the $4 a week which she earns in the cotton mill here, Mrs. Mary Herdman, whose husband died last February, appeared before Judge Henry Brewer in the Juvenile Court here today and asked that the court care for them. Judge Brewer placed the children, Minnie, aged 10; Annie, aged 5; and Annie, aged 2, in the care of Agent John Lynde, with instructions to place them in the Home for Deserving Children on Harrison avenue, Boston, where they are to stay for six months on trial, during which time the mother can remove them if she earns enough for their support.

WONDERLAND GIRL CASHIERS NOW 'NU MUS'

They Form Greek Letter Society Because They Wear College Caps and Gowns.

TRYING TO INVENT GRIP

Talk about the "high girls" of the college! The girls at Wonderland have just created themselves into a Greek letter society, just like college girls.

They use the Wonderland cashiers as their college caps and gowns as their official regalia. The colors are red and white and they wear these three miles away from the college.

Well, having these girls decided to form a Greek letter society, they are now trying to invent a grip.

They have a "grip" which is a combination of the "grip" of the college and the "grip" of the Wonderland cashiers.

And it is an awful secret. Several girls are killing themselves trying to keep it.

The girls are very pretty and are very popular. Many of them are very rich and are very popular.

President—Miss Hattie Campbell. Secretary—Miss Hattie Campbell. Treasurer—Miss Hattie Campbell.

At the first regular meeting, the president was elected and the treasurer was elected.

To Have Brand New Grip. Another thing which must be attended to is the brand new grip.

WALTHAM ARCHITECT BROKE HIS NECK IN A FOLDING BED AND LIVES TO TELL OF IT

George E. Strout of Waltham Passes Through Experience Few Men Ever Know.

Wearing Leather Harness, He Tells of His Sensations, Physical and Mental.

Lying on his bed at his home, No. 20 Fifth street, Waltham, George E. Strout, a well-known contractor and architect, is looking for the time when his broken neck shall have fully healed and he can go out and take up the active life to which he has been so long accustomed.

Strout's neck was broken and he lives to tell how it feels to pass through an experience that but few men ever know and never sufficiently to describe their sensations.

On May 20 he was sleeping with a friend in his room, his wife being in New Hampshire at the time, and as he was resting the combination dresser and folding bed snapped and shot him together as though in a great vice.

Strout's neck was broken, but at that time it could not be diagnosed, as Dr. Knight, who was called to see him, thought it was a strain.

GEORGE E. STROUT AND DIAGRAM SHOWING HOW HIS NECK WAS BROKEN

A very few weeks until Strout will be on his feet and able to attend to his business. Even now Strout sits up for a few minutes at a time. When he does this the neck is eased in a great collar of leather wrapped in canvas, and this holds the neck in place. The collar is made of leather and is held in place by a strap.

The following Monday Strout, who is an active man and a great lover of his work, was in a great deal of pain. He was in a great deal of pain. He was in a great deal of pain.

How It Feels to Have Your Neck Broken.

By George E. Strout.

When the top of the folding bed fell upon my neck there was a blinding flash of light before my eyes; then I felt absolutely nothing. I knew everything, I realized that I had been terribly hurt, but the last thought in the world was that my neck was broken. I never dreamed of it. It was as though I was a dead man and looking at myself. When the bed was lifted from me I fell back on the pillow, just like a bent spring when it is released. It was purely mechanical. I had nothing to do with it, and I knew it. I could not stir, even my little finger. Helpless! Yes, utterly helpless, all but my mind, and that cleared the instant that flash of light flickered and died. I knew I was badly hurt, and I asked my companion to raise the bed, which he was doing, but I could not assist him nor could I leave the bed without help. After I was taken to the hospital and when my nerves began to revive I felt ten thousand tortures. My arms especially hurt me. It seemed as though they had been skinned and every touch was an agony unutterable.

Another sensation which followed closely was that as if my whole body had "gone to sleep." I knew I was badly hurt, and I asked my companion to raise the bed, which he was doing, but I could not assist him nor could I leave the bed without help. After I was taken to the hospital and when my nerves began to revive I felt ten thousand tortures. My arms especially hurt me. It seemed as though they had been skinned and every touch was an agony unutterable.

TO STOP SALE OF BAD MEATS

Canned meats that have been condemned by the State Board of Health are no longer to be kept on the shelves of Massachusetts merchants, under such of light-colored and marinating labels. According to a statement issued from the office of the Health Board, the State Board of Health yesterday afternoon, dealers who persist in having such goods on their shelves will be found to contain more poison than will be provided for the law's limit.

SCOTCH WIDOW DENIES HEARING THAW MAKE THREATS AGAINST WHITE

TO TELL GRAND JURY ONLY WHAT SHE SEES FIT

Was Relied on by State to Show That Thaw Flourished Revolver in St. Regis Hotel.

FRIENDLY TO PRISONER

By Boston American Learned Wire.
NEW YORK, July 13. There was a scene at the district attorney's office here when it was definitely learned that Mrs. Marye C. Schwartz of the Hotel Theresa on West Thirty-second street, one of the witnesses on whom the prosecution had placed its greatest dependence, had decided to help Harry K. Thaw every way in her power.

It was announced by Mrs. Schwartz that she would obey the summons served on her and appear before the grand jury, but she declared as positive as she knew how that she would answer only such questions as she considered proper. She did not deny that she would become a witness for the defense and take the stand at the trial to testify on so far as she could on the lines of the case for Thaw as it had been prepared by his counsel.

Knows No Threats

"I have decided," said Mrs. Schwartz to the grand jury, "to answer the questions of the grand jury, of course. I am a Scotch widow and Mr. and Mrs. Thaw, I think, I should understand. I have heard that the grand jury will be asked to answer questions which have been made when I was in the city with the Thaws and White and in another part of the case. Harry Thaw did sign a revolver and I saw it under his napkin at the same time threatening to kill Harry Thaw. I was always considered 'wild' and my experience in his company bore that opinion out. But I am sure I have no story of death threats to tell the grand jury or the district attorney's office."

Insanity the Defense

It was declared to-day that former Judge William M. K. Thaw, after consultation with the other lawyers who have been retained by the defense, has decided definitely to discard any plea of insanity, and to rely solely on the insanity of Harry Thaw as the defense's case on a single plea of insanity. As a result, it was said, will be made to have a single plea of insanity to examine Thaw as to his sanity and possibly secure a full acquittal in support of this position. Judge Thaw to-day was believed to have been in the city for the first time since his arrest. He was believed to have been in the city for the first time since his arrest. He was believed to have been in the city for the first time since his arrest.

SKETCH BY ARTIST FREDERICKS OF EVELYN NESBIT THAW AFTER VISITING HUSBAND IN TOMBS

Thaw Objects to Plea

It is known, however, that the strongest kind of opposition to the insanity plea will come, and has already come, from Harry Thaw himself. He has lost no opportunity to make his position clear to the grand jury. He has lost no opportunity to make his position clear to the grand jury. He has lost no opportunity to make his position clear to the grand jury.

SCOTCH WIDOW'S TRAIL 'TOD HOPE' 2 COUSINS

"NOBLEMAN" WANTED BY BOSTON POLICE FOR ALLEGED FORGERY.

Detectives throughout the three cities of the United States and in Canada and England are now on the trail of "Lord Hope," the English nobleman, who is wanted by the Boston police for alleged forgery and fraudulent dealings in stocks in Salt Lake City, who for the last two weeks has been hunted by society folk in this city. "Lord Hope" was a man of high social position, a member of the aristocracy, and a man of high social position. He was a man of high social position, a member of the aristocracy, and a man of high social position.

THINK HE WENT TO CANADA.

It is not necessary to provide by Chief of Police, Mr. Nathan, that Mr. Hope was seen in New York on Wednesday, and from there changed his course by heading for Halifax, Montreal, Quebec or some other point in Canada, where he might still be hiding.

HOPE HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Hope probably had a very narrow escape from arrest by Chief Watts, who on several occasions had been closely in touch with him. In the absence of any formal arrest, when the complaint was made and the request to arrest him came, Hope was out of the jurisdiction of the local police. While Hope was here a close friend of Chief Watts, and a close friend of Chief Watts, and a close friend of Chief Watts.

HID HIS IDENTITY.

So far as it looks, there was only one occasion on which Mr. Hope denied his identity in Boston. That was when he was in the United States Hotel. Mr. Hope was asked if he were not Lord Hope. He shook his head and said, "No," with a look of surprise. "No," with a look of surprise.

TELEGRAM A WARNING.

A telegram received in this city Saturday from Silver River, Minn., of Salt Lake City, was believed to have been the means of setting the career of Hope, and it is believed that the thirty arrests of Salt Lake City people prevented Hope from reaching Boston. Another Cure by CUTICURA REMEDIES

"My trouble has been cracked hands, or more correctly, rind of the fingers, from leprosy. I used all known remedies, the only relief I received being temporary relief by filling the little cracks with vasoline. I have now used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment at Expense of 75c. - Hands Now Well."

BABY BOY'S ECZEMA

Cured by the Cuticura Remedies. "When my boy was six months of age, eczema appeared on his face, completely covering it. He was completely cured by using Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Lotion. The eczema disappeared in six months, having used one cake of the Cuticura Soap, two boxes of the Cuticura Ointment, and the amount of the Cuticura Lotion required with it. He was entirely free from the disease, and is now a healthy, happy baby."
